Aligning the Team

The Align Report compares individual Discover Reports within a business. Typically taken by multiple owners, top management execs, or by family members involved in the business. It is the best way to collect unbiased feedback.

Align enables the owner to get everyone on the same page before important decisions are made. It helps to clarify what the executive team as a whole believes are the most relevant issues and provides evidence that support these results.

The Align Report is designed to determine where members are in agreement and where there is a sense of discord. The detailed report allows for an honest discussion that focuses on what is best for the business as seen through the lens of all individuals at the management level.
